Report of the programme:

Bejoy Narayan Mahavidyalaya, Itachuna, Hooghly, organized the Celebration of Paschimbanga Divas (West Bengal Day) on 20 June 2026 at the Diamond Jubilee Hall to commemorate the rich cultural heritage, history, and achievements of West Bengal. The programme witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, teachers, non-teaching staff, and invited guests, with a total attendance of more than 60 participants.

The programme commenced with a warm welcome to the distinguished speaker, Mr. Dhananjay Chakrabarti, Ex-Associate Professor, Department of Sanskrit, Bejoy Narayan Mahavidyalaya. In his special lecture, Mr. Chakrabarti eloquently highlighted the historical significance of West Bengal, its cultural legacy, and the contributions of eminent personalities from the state in the fields of literature, education, science, and social reform. His insightful deliberations inspired the audience to appreciate and preserve the rich traditions and values of Bengal.

As part of the celebration, Essay and Quiz Competitions were organized for students. The competitions encouraged participants to enhance their knowledge of the history, culture, and socio-economic development of West Bengal while fostering analytical and creative thinking.

The programme also featured a vibrant Cultural Programme, where students' performances reflecting the spirit and heritage of Bengal. The performances added colour and enthusiasm to the celebration and were highly appreciated by the audience.

Another significant component of the event was the Publication of Educational Material, aimed at promoting awareness regarding the historical and cultural importance of West Bengal among students and the academic community.

The programme concluded with a vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to the speaker, participants, organizers, and all attendees for making the celebration a grand success. The observance of Paschimbanga Divas served as a meaningful platform for fostering cultural awareness, regional pride, and educational enrichment among the students and staff of the institution.
